Republican State Convention.

The Republicans of Ohio are requested to meet in delegate convention in the city of Columbus, on Tuesday and Wednesday.

June 25 and 26, 1889.

To place in nomination candidates for the following offices, namely:

Governor,
 Lieutenant Governor,
 Judge of the Supreme Court,
 Treasurer of State,
 Attorney General,
 State Commissioner of Common Schools,
 Member of Board of Public Works,
 Clerk of the Supreme Court.

The delegates from each Congressional District will convene on Tuesday, the 25th day of June, at two (2) p.m., for the purpose of choosing Vice Presidents of the convention and one member for each of the various committees, also a member of the State Central Committee for each district.

The convention will be called to order on 25th day of June, at four (4) o'clock p.m., for temporary organization and the transaction of such other business as may be properly brought before it, and on June 26, at 10 o'clock a.m., for permanent organization and the nomination of candidates.

The basis of representation for delegates is one for every five hundred (500) votes cast for the Republican Presidential Elector receiving the highest vote in 1888, and one for each fraction thereof of two hundred and fifty (250) or over.

WM. MONAGHAN,
 Chairman Republican State Central Com.
 ALVIN W. KUMLER,
 Secretary.

THE county republican convention will be held in Elyria, Saturday, June 23, at 11 o'clock a.m. to place in nomination one Representative, Auditor, Surveyor, Commissioner, Inferior Director and select ten delegates to represent the county at the state convention to be held in Columbus, June 25. The basis of representation to the county convention will be one delegate for every five votes or fractional part of fifty over twenty-five cast for President Harrison. The county is entitled to one hundred and forty-five delegates. Wellington 12, Rochester 4, Pittsfield 5, Peasfield 4, Brighton 4, Camden 5, Huntington 5, LaGrange 6. The call was received too late for publication this week but will appear next.

WILLIAM R. DAY of Canton has been appointed Circuit Judge for the Northern District of Ohio, to fill the vacancy caused by Judge Welker's resignation.

MRS. CAROLINE BROUGH, wife of John Brough the noted War Governor from 64 to 65 died at the residence of her daughter in Cincinnati Thursday last. Her remains were interred by the side of her husband in Woodland cemetery Cleveland Ohio, who departed this life Aug. 29, 1865.

HON. R. T. LINCOLN will be presented to the Queen this week. Robert has been faithful in little things and now let us hope that the court at St. James will not be dishonored by his presence and that he will be permitted to return to America at the end of his term carrying the name of Lincoln unimpaired.

GENL. R. P. KENNEDY appears to be looking towards the Governor's chair. The General is a very able man and would be a winner if he is placed on the route. But our statesmen a little farther north are expecting to have the exclusive right to grapple for the plums which might cause a little trouble, should a southern or central candidate appear.

POST-MASTER GENERAL WANAMAKER is determined that no post-office shall be kept in rooms where intoxicating liquors are sold. It will be a difficult matter to enforce it at some points in the Southern states unless they abandon the office for there are a number of cross road towns that have but one business house which is used for a general store and whisky must be sold as one of the necessities.

EX-PRESIDENT CLEVELAND is now a Counselor-at-Law in New York. While in the practice before he was elected sheriff of Buffalo, and was sought after very little either as an advocate or counselor, but there is a great deal in a name in America. A petition filed in court with his name upon as associate attorney have a little more weight than when he was in the trade before.

THE city of Chicago, Ill., is all stirred up over the murder of Dr. Cronin. It appears that the Doctor had some bitter enemies in certain societies of which he was formerly a member, but subsequently left and instituted another similar order, which, on account of its popularity was about to swallow up the interest in the other. This, with other things the old members became jealous and threatened the Doctor's life. On the evening of May 4th he was missing and his remains were subsequently found in a catch basin. Seventy-five thousand dollars reward has been offered for the perpetrators of the deed.

Montana Letter No. 3.

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, '89.

Editor ENTERPRISE:

Removing a vast amount of debris, till by-and-by he may with some little propriety exclaim "Eureka" (I have found it). He next ascertains which direction the vein is running and makes a "location" fifteen hundred feet, the length of the lode, and six hundred feet wide. This location must be recorded in the office of the county clerk and then he has time to breath and make preparations for the future development of the lode. Not taking into consideration the pain he has been at, the general opinion is (if the location proves to be a rich mine) "that fellow is lucky."

As all prospectors do not go to work with the same determined spirit, neither do all attain the same result. Some are "superficial prospectors," who only look for hard reefs that crop out high and bold above the surface, whilst not a few are "bummers" who are around waiting for some industrious fellow to make a good location, when they will pry around to find some little technicalities of law that he may not be well enough posted in, to have exactly complied with, and if they can pick the least flaw in his location they "jump it" or perhaps try to bluff him off. Many prospectors make rich finds but never realize anything from them for the simple reason that they do not possess the means to develop their properties. Not a few, who discover lodes, that afterwards become rich and productive mines, become so encumbered with debt in opening up their leads, that they are obliged to turn them over to their creditors for little or nothing. There are but few that make rich strikes and not one in a hundred that gets the benefit of his labor. As a general rule the prospector is one man and the mine owners another. Nor do all lodes that yield gold near the surface continue so to yield at great depth. They frequently change from free-milling gold ore, to gold and silver mixed; whilst ores that carry most silver on the upper level of a mine may change to argentiferous lead ore lower down. Many mines produce gold, silver, lead, arsenic, antimony, zinc, copper and other metals all mixed together. Such ores must be smelted and are very expensive to reduce. Other mines yield gold and silver ore which only need pulverizing and the gold and silver is collected by washing the powdered ore in tanks containing quicksilver, which attracts the infinite particles of precious metal.

Lead, copper, silver and gold are the principal metals produced in Montana. Over twenty-three million dollars worth of the last two were produced in 1888; and the output of the territory is increasing rapidly, every year. There are thousands of mines that would pay big dividends if there were capital here to go ahead and work them; indeed it is generally conceded by mining experts that Montana's richest and most extensive mines are not yet worked and probably not discovered. All coke, for smelting purposes was brought from Pennsylvania until the last year or two and much ore from Montana is shipped to Omaha, Denver and other far away reduction works to be treated. The majority of mines are high up in inaccessible mountains and the cost of working them is immense; whilst the transportation of ore to the smelters is an item of no mean consideration. As a general rule reefs of quartz that bears mineral near the surface continue to improve as the depth increases; and it frequently happens that depths of from one to three hundred feet are attained before any ore is found that will pay to smelt. One may start to work on what may seem to be a good prospect and after sinking down a hundred feet or more the ledge may pinch out, or he may take a sample of the quartz and have it assayed (for no one can tell the quantity of gold, silver, etc., in a piece of ore by looking at it) and discover that it contains only carbonates of hard luck, pyrites of hard work, chlorides of disappointment and perhaps ninety-five per cent of the oxides of despair. I often think mining out here is a good deal like gambling, the profits are immense and so are the risks.

The dividends paid by mines in Montana last year were upwards of four million dollars. Our most prosperous stockmen are getting excited over mines just now, and are investing a good deal of capital in them. I might also mention that the year 1887 was a notable year for railroad building out here. A new road was pushed from Minot, D. T., through Northern Montana to Helena, a distance of 643 miles, in seven months and a half. All this was done by working from one end, and 500 miles were graded in the short period of five months, whilst 5 miles and 60 feet of track were laid (working from one end only) in one day by the regular crew of track layers. 9,700,000 cubic yds. of earth and 32,500 yds. of rock had to be removed besides all the bridge and culvert building, etc. This new line now extends as far as Butte City (the largest mining camp in the world) and is expected to reach the Pacific Coast ere long. Although all the buffaloes have disappeared long ago, and antelope, elk and deer are scarce, there has come domestic animals to take their places. Sheep, horses and cattle by the tens of thousands find pasture in every valley and the more sheltered of the valleys produce abundance of cereals and vegetables. Fruit can never be raised successfully on account of frosty nights in summer. Snow fell in the mountains August 3rd and 4th and frosts often nip potatoes in July. This winter has been unusually mild and very little snow has fell. The sun shines out bright and warm every day and all kinds of stock are fat. I could give you a fuller account of the mode of handling sheep, cattle and horses out here, but as this letter is rather lengthy, I must reserve that part of my story for some other time. I conclude with my best wishes.

M. COLLEN.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constant failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly upon the blood and mucus surface of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c.

DIED.

YOUNG—Emily, wife of Willard Young at her home in Florence, Wednesday, May 23, aged 39 years.

CRADDOCK—Sandy, May 23, Deborah, wife of Richard Craddock, aged 62 years. Funeral Tuesday afternoon at half-past one o'clock, from her late residence on Mechanic street, Rev. S. D. Gamwell officiating.

An autopsy in the case failed to find any organic disease sufficient to account for death. There was, however, a noticeable deficiency of the quantity and of the red constituents of the blood, showing insufficient nutrition, which would indicate a diseased condition of the assimilative or blood making organs. The disease is technically known as Leucocythemia, but the cause has not yet been definitely settled. The examination was conducted by Dr. Hathaway at the request of Dr. Rust, the attending physician. Drs. Smith and Houghton being present by invitation.

Mr. Craddock and family extend their heartfelt thanks to the neighbors and friends who so kindly loaned a helping hand during the sickness and extended sympathy at the death of the wife and mother.

A Great Battle.

Is continually going on in the human system. The demon of impure blood strives to gain victory over the constitution, to ruin health, to drag victims to the grave. A good reliable medicine like Hood's Sassaaparilla is the weapon with which to defend one's self, drive the desperate enemy from the field, and restore peace and bodily health for many years. Try this peculiar medicine.

A Card.

Permit us to acknowledge through the ENTERPRISE our sincere thanks to the Baptist church and its Ladies' Aid Society of Penfield for their tokens of remembrance in their friendly visit at our home in this city on the 23rd inst. We were then reminded of what David sang on one of Israel's fatal days, "Behold how good and pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity."

Literary Notes.

Intellectual interests are not a prominent element of Montreal life. The literary life of the city has just begun to shine, beyond a very small circle of local writers, into the ranks of society. But the literary interests are awakening in society are shown by an increase of study, if not yet by many notable productions. There are now the usual clubs for the reading of Shakespeare and Browning, and many other societies looking to social improvement through the cultivation of letters. Montreal is said to be the chief book centre of Canada but the city does not possess a public general library, excepting the Frazer Institute, just struggling into existence; the libraries of individual institutions do not cover well any other topics than theology and civil law, and the six chief libraries together, of both languages, contain only about 100,000 volumes. The press of Montreal is very much hampered by the constant necessity of being politic in a sharply divided community. Music suffers from the disfavor with which the churches regard the drama; for without successful theatres or an opera an orchestra cannot be maintained, and the art thus lacks its chief means of expression.—Harper's Magazine for June.

Is it Safe

To neglect yourself if troubled with any disease of the kidneys? No, it is dangerous; and if you are so afflicted attend to it now. Do not wait, but use Sulphur Bitters at once. They cured me when I was given up to die by several physicians.—Jonathan Ham, Boston.
